

Accounting

 School of Business

Learn the language of business and numbers

The Associate in Applied Science (AAS) Accounting degree at Lake Washington Institute of Technology (LWTech) prepares students to gain a solid and extensive background in the high-demand field of accounting. An accounting degree can open doors to numerous opportunities in the Seattle area and beyond.

Accounting students engage in an academic environment and gain fundamental skills that are essential for preparing accounting statements and reports. Learn the most updated information on income tax laws, changing accounting standards, computerized accounting and more.

Find out more today!

LWTech.edu/Accounting

Admission Coach
(425) 739-8381

Admission.Coach@LWTech.edu

Program Highlights

- Apply manual methods and software tools to prepare accounting statements and reports
- Complete the accounting cycle, including end-of-period adjustments
- Complete federal income tax returns
- Meet Social Science, Humanities, Written Communication, and Quantitative Reasoning distribution area outcomes
- Accounting Assistant certificate provides I-BEST support for ESL and ABE students with the opportunity to pursue the Accounting Assistant Certificate of Completion. Visit LWTech.edu/IBEST.

Degrees & Certificates

AAS Accounting, AAS

CC Accounting Assistant,
Certificate of Completion

Accounting Paraprofessional,
Certificate of Proficiency

Practical Accounting,
Certificate of Proficiency

Career Opportunities

- Accounting Services
- Tax Advisory
- Auditing
- Financial Management
- Management Accounting