

Health Sciences

 School of Health Sciences

Make a difference in health care

The Lake Washington Institute of Technology (LWTech) Health Sciences AAS-T degree prepares students for various healthcare related training programs with strong knowledge and skills in college-level academics such as math, English, natural sciences, humanities, and social science.

Students will be prepared to apply for selective admissions to LWTech's Health Sciences Programs including LWTech's applied baccalaureate programs or other universities.

Find out more today!
LWTech.edu/HealthSciences

Admission Coach
(425) 739-8381
Admission.Coach@LWTech.edu

Degrees & Certificates

AAS	Health Sciences, AAS-T
CC	Funeral Attendant, Certificate of Completion Nursing Assistant (NAC), Certificate of Completion

Program Highlights

Be prepared to obtain employment in a specialty within health sciences or transfer to a health science baccalaureate program

Work effectively as a member of a healthcare team

Advocate on behalf of patients to diverse health care practitioners and patient care teams

Describe how health science professions contribute to health care delivery

Demonstrate critical thinking, teamwork, communication, intercultural appreciation, and information literacy skills

Meet social science, humanities, written communication, and quantitative reasoning distribution area outcomes

Career Opportunities

The Health Sciences AAS-T degree is designed to provide students with professional certificates in Health Science areas:

- Funeral Services
- Nursing Assistant